

AccountMate Enterprise is New Product Line Providing Another Win-Win for Solution Providers and Clients

(Petaluma, CA) (August 27, 2018) (BUSINESS WIRE) AccountMate Software Corporation announces the release of its latest product line, AccountMate Enterprise. This financial software system is the newest in AccountMate's 34 year history of producing highly customizable solutions.

David Dierke, President and CEO of AccountMate, made this announcement by saying "how proud we are of our team of employees for producing a suite of accounting modules that take into consideration many of the requests by clients that could be implemented as a result of this advancing and flexible architecture in AccountMate Enterprise."

Looking to future revenue growth for its AccountMate Solution Providers, this AccountMate Enterprise system allows for even more expanded database and functionality options. These solution providers are highly skilled and knowledgeable business financial consultants and extensibility technicians for their clients. With this latest AccountMate Enterprise solution, they have an accounting solution to offer up to prospects and a possible upgrade path for their current clients. This is a win-win additional future opportunity for them and AccountMate's vertical solution partners to expand their businesses.

Client enhancement requests have driven much of the technology and feature expansion for AccountMate Enterprise. The new architecture of this product line and the utilities crafted for its solid implementation and extension have gotten accolades during the beta phase. Now that the actual product release was made public last week, AccountMate continues to hear very positive comments from their solution providers who have shown their clients the AccountMate Enterprise demo and who are clearly poised to be the 'early adopters' of this new AccountMate Enterprise system.

David Dierke said also that, "AccountMate Enterprise is the latest signal to the world-wide mid-market business owners of the trust they can have using our solution. This trust is based on assurances of a long-term relationship with AccountMate Software and their solution providers, and that their business financial efficiencies can be expanded for many years to come."

New and improved functionality includes a new built-in Report Designer that allows authorized users to customize standard reports and create custom reports. Also, an unlimited number of parent and subsidiary companies in each consolidation company provides flexibility in assigning subsidiary companies to a consolidation company and addresses complex consolidation scenarios.
