

.NET Product Roll-out Announced at AccountMate SYNERGY Reseller Conference

AccountMate 10 for SQL and AccountMate Enterprise 2017 Features and Training were highlights of this Event

(Petaluma, CA) (November 4, 2016)

AccountMate Software Corporation held their 5-day SYNERGY reseller conference in Las Vegas, NV. The theme was "New Growth for Your Business". In opening remarks by David Dierke, President & CEO of AccountMate, he said "Without a doubt, our 32 years in business were due to the longevity and depth of our accounting software solution, the multiple product line offerings, vertical solutions, and the product knowledge of our employees and Solution Providers. All of this has meant growth for AccountMate. In this next year, we will be rolling out version releases that further reinforce the power of our product offerings."

The releases that Mr. Dierke referred to that were covered during SYNERGY were the upgraded AccountMate 10 for SQL and AccountMate Enterprise, both to release in Q1 2017. AccountMate Enterprise is based on Microsoft .NET technology. Much of the training that went on during the conference was to expand the understanding of this new technology for AccountMate resellers.

Also two new modules were introduced. The AccountMate 10 for SQL will have a configurator module for sales and a configurator module for manufacturing. Both of these modules improve productivity by introducing product configuration rules and are tightly integrated within AccountMate modules.

A main stage case study presentation was delivered by Aaron Ingram, Vice President of Operations at Innomed, Inc. He spoke directly to the fact that the AccountMate financial system and NexLAN LLC, their AccountMate solution provider, made a big difference in growing their highly-regulated surgical instrument business. The full-compliment of features offered in AccountMate software, the customization capability provided by the software and the business logic they developed with NexLAN, has enabled Innomed to roll out hundreds of new products over the past few years. This was a great testament to the growth potential of a client using AccountMate.

As a standard feature of AccountMate's annual events, sessions were devoted to voting and prioritizing product features and functions submitted by AccountMate solution providers and their clients. Based on this voting, AccountMate's teams can plan the scheduling of features in upcoming product releases.

The value in having AccountMate's SYNERGY conference is both for the networking amongst AccountMate management, AccountMate staff, solution providers and vertical solution partners as well as relaying important information on product strategies and training.
